

HOW TO MAKE BUILDINGS WORK FOR YOUR MISSION

If your church is looking to optimise its buildings or land, Making Property Serve Mission is the definitive resource

Contents

Introduction

Part One: What is the Church's core business?

Chapter 1: Worshipping God—loving with heart, soul and mind.

Chapter 2: Make disciples and teach

Chapter 3: Loving your neighbour

Chapter 4: Love one another.

Chapter 5: Mission analysis methods

Part Two: What property do you have?

Chapter 6: Church with borrowed property.

Chapter 7: Heritage buildings

Chapter 8: The 20th century church building

Chapter 9: The warehouse church

Chapter 10: Mega-church

Chapter 11: The property rich and cash poor church.

Part Three: How can property serve mission?

Chapter 12: Sacred space and secular activities

Chapter 13: Encouraging relationships with God and one another.

Chapter 14: Street art and public relevance

Chapter 15: Sharing and sustainability

Chapter 16: Your local mission issues

Part Four: Is my building a help or a hindrance?

Chapter 17: Testing the property inventory against mission

Chapter 18: How did it come to this?

Chapter 19: Being wise stewards

Part Five: What are our opportunities?

Chapter 20: Being clear about heritage

Chapter 21: Heritage building location

Chapter 22: Multi-use opportunities in heritage churches

Chapter 23: Drivers for change in heritage buildings

Chapter 24: The opportunities for new buildings

Part Six: Who has the skills to help?

Chapter 25: Roles within the church

Chapter 26: Obtaining professional advice

Chapter 27: Ask others who have completed their buildings

Part Seven: What are the basic design considerations?

Chapter 28: Entry and welcome

Chapter 29: The foyer or narthex

Chapter 30: Worship auditorium design

Chapter 31: Appropriate rooms for gathering

Chapter 32: Kitchens and toilets

Chapter 33: Accessibility, storage, health and safety

Chapter 34: Heating, cooling and energy generation

Chapter 35: Natural and artificial lighting

Part Eight: What are the processes?

Chapter 36: The missional master plan

Chapter 37: Integrated mission and development master plan

Chapter 38: Design and construction

Chapter 39: Master plan and maintain

Part Nine: How can we pay for it?

Chapter 40: Return on investment

Chapter 41: Funding to buy and build

Chapter 42: Releasing property value

Chapter 43: Shareholder renting

Chapter 44: Taxation and financial control

Part Ten: Troubleshooting and frequently asked questions

Chapter 45: How to encourage commitment

Chapter 46: Familiarity and comfort in the status quo

Chapter 47: Dealing with dissent and fear of member loss

Chapter 48: The too hard basket, delay and inertia

Chapter 49: Managing gatekeepers and stormtroopers

Chapter 50: Spending on buildings for us or giving to the developing world?

Part Eleven: Conclusion

Chapter 51: Mission enabled

Chapter 52: The call to action

Appendix

Projects referred to

Acknowledgements

Bibliography

About the author

Making Property Serve Mission* looks at the buildings and land accumulated by the Christian Church and asks, Is property enabling the mission of the Church in the twenty-first century? If so, how are churches achieving this aim, and if not, what should be done?

Making Property Serve Mission is available from 22 November 2016 in paperback and ebook. Paperback RRP $34.95 AUD (234 x 156 mm with 77 colour illustrations) eBook RRP $19.99 AUD